

Indeed, we have lost a true servant of God.

Sad as it may be, we are thankful to God that he now rests from all his labour and adversities he faced in life. He battled many sicknesses, and setbacks in his life time and always came out victorious.

We know he has met Jesus whom he served with all his heart and is resting from all his labour.

We pray that those of us still alive will be encouraged to dedicate our lives to God and the church just as he did. Obama, we will miss you, rest in peace.

Tribute by Cousins

Even though you are gone away, your love will always be here to stay.

You touched our hearts with so many things.

God knew you were the one to save and He therefore took you home to get some rest even though we loved you best.

Our hearts are filled with so much pain and we feel no shame in admitting this. But at this time we must let go as we say our final goodbyes. We will treasure your memories as they live on through us. Rest on dear cousin with peace of mind.

Tribute by Nephews & Nieces

Bro. Godwin, we are beside ourselves with grieve as we write this tribute about you. It still feels surreal that you are gone. You were humble, kind and calm. We wake up each day and glance at your door to check on you. Maybe this has become a habit that will take time to break.

We were hoping you would get better and be full of life so we could joke and tease one another again. We wanted you to get better, we wanted you to have more time on earth. It broke our heart to see you suffering without knowing that your passing away will break our hearts even more.

These past years, we have enjoyed your company, your jokes and smiles warmed our hearts all the time. We consider ourselves blessed to have been by your side during your last days.

As you rest in the bosom of our Almighty Father, we hope you felt loved and cared for.

Thank you for being a part of our lives. Rest On Bro. Godwin!

Biography

Godwin Agbogbanku Awuku was born on the 22nd of April, 1972. He attended Oxbridge International School, Mataheko and Dormaa Ahenkrom Senior Secondary School (DORMASS).

Godwin had many talents, he could easily fix any electrical issue, he loved to paint and to fix broken things. It was no wonder he was always willing to render his service to those who needed him.

He was a musician skilled in playing the saxophone and would grace any event he was invited to with his brilliant performance and music.

Godwin was a dedicated Christian who loved to go to church and attend prayer meetings. He was a proud servant of God encouraged others in their christian walk.

Tribute by Mother

My beloved Godwin, you have left me with so much sadness and grief. It is hard to say my final words to you. You were a darling child who brought me so much joy. You were calm, slow to anger and peaceful. You had a big heart to accept all and forgive all.

It is with a heavy heart that I say my goodbye to you my son. I pray your soul finds rest in the heavens.

Tribute by Siblings

Godwin our dear Brother now that you are gone, you're no longer here to share the bond we had together -a bond of love and care. Yet, somehow we know you are watching over us.

From Worldly cares, you finally are free. Godwin ,We miss you so very much, And our tears we cannot hide. Within our heart, we feel you are always by our side.

Ever since you went away life has never been the same. We are however comforted knowing that one day we will meet again.

Tribute by Church
More Than Conquereors Int.

“But Christ has indeed been raised from the dead, the first fruits of those who have fallen asleep. For since death came through a man, the resurrection of the dead comes also through a man. For as in Adam all die, so in Christ all will be made alive.” 1 Cor 15:20-22

Our dearly beloved brother Godwin Agbogbanku Awuku, affectionately called Obama became a friend of our late Founder Pastor Theophilus Ankrah when they met at a crusade in the year 1995. Mr. Awuku was a loyal friend to Pastor Ankrah and joined him to minister as a Saxophonist in every church he was part of. He was with him at International Glorious Anointed Church and Maranatha Power Ministries. Despite the long distance from Kotobabi, when Pastor Ankrah started his own ministry, the More Than Conquerors Int. Church, Spintex Road, Mr Awuku became a member. Whenever he could, he will come early to church with his Saxophone to praise the Lord.

Mr. Awuku dedicated his whole life to the service of God and his church. He was very open to men, women and children alike. He was jovial and spoke a lot of languages. A true lover of music, he always carried some sort of musical instrument with him such as frichiwa (small two-piece metallic instrument) if he didn't have his saxophone with him.

Mr Awuku was a very neat and orderly man who had a good eye for interior decoration and painting. He would also make sure the church compound is clean after service and paint the auditorium whenever there was a need to do so. He was a servant of God who served God with his talents to the best of this abilities. Mr Awuku loved to travel and thus was always part of any journey within and outside Accra.
